

Shared Vision Network/ Business Development Workshop: How Your Beliefs Impact Your Life and Work

SVN Business Development Workshop: Can You Believe It? How Your Thoughts Dramatically Effect Your Bottom Line.

Price: $20

Thursday, June 12th, 10:00-11:30am at the Phoenix Public Library - Mesquite Branch (Behind Dillard's at the Paradise Valley Mall) - 4525 Paradise Village Parkway North, Phoenix, AZ.

Register at www.sharedvisionnetwork.com

To believe something means that your mind accepts it as true or real, whether or not it actually is true or real. Have you ever considered how much your beliefs are affecting your success? Probably far more than you realize. Your beliefs affect things like how much money you earn in your business, how confident you are, how others perceive you, how easy or difficult it is for you to demonstrate your expertise, and how credible you are, to name just a few. The key to true success lies in figuring out how your belief structures - ideas and conceptions you inherited from your parents and first family, schools, religious institutions, and culture at large - shape the actual events in your life. Join us for this hands-on session to uncover the beliefs that may be keeping you - and your business - from achieving all you can.

Expected Outcome: • Discovering your personal blueprint and determining the ways it has shaped your business and your life

Sunil Ahuja, MSIA

Workshop leader and development coach Sunil Ahuja has over 30 years of corporate and business experience as a manager, consultant and entrepreneur, and holds an MBA degree from Carnegie-Mellon University. He started his journey of spiritual exploration and personal development in 1983. He is a certified Developmental Coach, Avatar Master and licensee of the Chopra Center, and is now dedicated to assisting people in accessing and expressing their deepest potential.

For information contact Sunil Ahuja at (480) 314-1983, or at sunil@integral-transformation.com

Laura Orsini, Writer and Freelance Book Editor, Phoenix, Arizona: The Resurfacing program is about uncovering core beliefs. Having been alive for 40 years and relatively conscious for at least the last 10 of them, I figured I understood my core beliefs. What I hadn't known was how interconnected they all were. The things that have been tripping me up in my relationships are the same things that have been tripping me up in my professional success. My abundance and prosperity mindset has certainly been shifting for the positive over the last few years - but the Resurfacing program connected the dots as it revealed how my success blueprint relates not only to relationships but to money, as well. Within two weeks of the class, I landed the single most significant client of my career; I have attracted far greater knowledge and information about relationship success and have shifted the energy in some key relationships; and, most importantly, I feel happier - like everything is really, truly possible. I came into this an optimist. Now, it's not just positive thinking - it's positive reality.